Going Around Tsuen Wan

Task Description

Students wrote a short personal reflection at the end of their project entitled ‘Going around Tsuen Wan’. They expressed their feelings about the place and gave supporting reasons.

Preparation

To collect more information about Tsuen Wan for the cross-curricular project, students went on a visit to different places in that district. They also learnt vocabulary related to neighbourhood by reading a story about moving house and used the new words to compose a poem about Tsuen Wan. Before writing the short personal reflection, students were engaged in learning activities such as practising reading stories, writing poems and surfing the Internet to search for related information.
