

User Guide

- The primary users of this webpage are kindergarten teachers. It aims to provide them with content knowledge relevant to the topic to support the planning and implementation of the kindergarten education curriculum.
- All data, videos, photos, pictures and resources on this webpage can be used for teachers' reference and use. To align with the Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide (website: https://www.edb.gov.hk/attachment/en/curriculum-development/major-level-of-edu/preprimary/ENG\_KGECG\_2017.pdf), resources on this webpage should be adapted with professional judgement to cater for children's diversity, children's developmental needs, learning and teaching, and school context, etc.
- Teachers may provide appropriate supplement or arrange extended learning activities to enrich the resources on this webpage in order to enhance children's understanding of the topic and information provided.
- After learning and teaching activities, teachers should provide feedback to help children integrate the new knowledge and ideas with prior knowledge and experience in order to consolidate children's learning. Teachers should adopt a prudent and objective attitude, listen and observe to understand children's needs open-mindedly and carefully. Teachers can also encourage children to apply the new content and ideas in future learning activities or daily life so that learning can be deepened, consolidated and more meaningful.
- In accordance with the aims and learning objectives of the kindergarten education curriculum, teachers may select other learning and teaching resources which are correct, reliable, objective and impartial to help children build up a solid knowledge base, develop proper values and proactive attitudes, as well as enhance problem solving skills.
- Some information may have been updated when the resource is being used, teachers may visit the corresponding websites to obtain the up-to-date information.
- Teachers are welcome to point out areas that need improvement, and provide updated information to enrich the content for all teachers' reference.